Change brushes fast with HQD™

- Save time and money with one time purchase and installation
- Perfect for hard to access brushes and time critical brush changes
- Stays on in the toughest circumstances
- Safe and secure electrical connection

Fast, easy brush changes virtually eliminate downtime

Changing carbon brushes is a snap with Helwig Quick Disconnect (HQD™) Terminals and Mounts—there are no screws to remove or replace.

Once the HQD™ Mounts are installed, HQD™ Terminals take just seconds to change. Simply pull the HQD™ Terminal off of the Mount to release the worn brush, replace the brush with the new one, and push the HQD™ Terminal back on. You'll save hours on your brush changes.

Perfect for hard to access brushes or time sensitive brush changes

The HQD™ is ideal for brushes that are hard to access or cause downtime and production losses because of changes. It's tempting to delay brush replacement in these cases, which may result in motor damage. With the HQD™ brush changes are quick and easy in any spot.

Positive locking for secure contact

HQDs™ Terminals and Mounts snap together with a positive locking action that guarantees a safe, sure electrical connection to handle up to 200A.

Holds on tight in the roughest conditions

HQDs™ have been field proven for over 35 years. Their tight, positive connections hold fast and keep right on working under some of the roughest conditions imaginable—rugged, real world applications that could cause standard connections to work loose and fail.

Styles and sizes to fit any existing equipment

HQD™ Mounts can be threaded to fit all types, sizes and brands of brushholders and equipment. The mounts are ready to install when they're delivered; no modifications are needed. To order, just provide the style and thread size, and we will determine the correct mount for your needs. Many standard sizes are in stock.
